Of the more than $300 billion spent on plant maintenance operations, U.S. industry spends as much as 80 percent of that amount to correct chronic failures of machines, systems, and people. With machines and systems becoming increasingly complex, this problem can only worsen, and there is a clear and pressing need to establish comprehensive equipment maintenance programs.

Consolidated Case(s): C013846 C016505 C019267 February issue includes Appendix entitled Directory of United States Government periodicals and subscription publications; September issue includes List of depository libraries; June and December issues include semiannual index Bridge Maintenance, Safety, Management, Resilience and Sustainability contains the lectures and papers presented at The Sixth International Conference on Bridge Maintenance, Safety and Management (IABMAS 2012) held in Stresa, Lake Maggiore, Italy, 8-12 July, 2012. This volume consists of a book of extended abstracts (800 pp) and DVD (4057 pp) containing List of members in v. 1- Public agencies, private corporations, nonprofit institutions, and other organizations regularly invest millions of dollars in acquiring buildings and other constructed facilities to support their business. For this investment, the owner receives a complex structure composed of hundreds of separate but interrelated components, including roofs, walls, foundations, electrical, plumbing, heating, air conditioning, ventilation, fire, communication, safety, and architectural systems. These components and systems must all be maintained and repaired to optimize the facility's performance throughout its service life to provide a safe, healthy, and productive environment for its users and occupants. Linking the Construction Industry: Electronic Operation and Maintenance Manuals is a summary of a workshop that was held at the National Academy of Sciences in Washington, D.C., on October 13, 1999. The workshop, planned and organized by the Federal Facilities Council and the National Institute of Building Sciences, brought together an invited audience of building industry stakeholders, including owners, operators from federal agencies and other organizations, building component and system manufacturers, publishers of building product data and maintenance manuals, and CMMS software developers to revisit the issue of electronic operation and maintenance manuals. List of members in v. 1- The Experiment Control and Monitor (EC & M) software was developed at NASA Lewis Research Center to support the Advanced Communications Technology Satellite (ACTS) High Burst Rate Link Evaluation Terminal (HBR-LET). The HBR-LET is an experimenter's terminal to communicate with the ACTS for various investigations by government agencies, universities, and industry. The EC & M software is one segment of the Control and Performance Monitoring (C & PM) software system of the HBR-LET. The EC & M software allows users to initialize, control, and monitor instrumentation within the HBR-LET using a predefined sequence of commands. Besides instrument control, the C & PM software system is also responsible for computer communication between the HBR-LET and the ACTS NASA Ground Station and for uplink power control of the HBR-LET to demonstrate power augmentation during rain fade events. The EC & M Software User's Guide, Version 1.0 (NASA-CR-189160) outlines the commands required to install and operate the EC & M software.

Input and output file descriptions, operator commands, and recovery procedures are discussed in the document. The EC & M Software Maintenance Manual, Version 1.0 (NASA-CR-18917) is a programmer's guide that describes current implementation of the EC & M software from a technical perspective. An overview of the EC & M software, computer algorithms, format representation, and computer hardware configuration are included in the manual.
