Love will grow through the cracks you leave open. Ranch hand Roe Davis absolutely never mixes business with pleasure-until he runs into boss, Travis Loving, at the only gay bar within two hundred miles. Getting involved with the ranch owner is a bad idea, but Roe's and Travis's bedroom kinks line up against one another like a pair of custom cut rails. As long as they're both clear this is sex on the side, no relationship, no interfering with the job, they could make it work. Shut out by his family years ago, Roe survived by steadfastly refusing to see into so much as a post office box. As his affair with Travis grows into more than just sex, Roe's past catches up with him, threatening the tiny ray of happiness he's found, reminding him it's well past time he went his way. But even a loner gets lonely, and at this point, there's nowhere left to run. The shame and sorrow of what he's lost will stay with Roe wherever he goes-until he's ready to let love lead him home. Uptown girl Emmaline Claiborne needs a man, and not just any man. She needs the kind of man who can make her lying, cheating, no-good ex-boyfriend insane with jealousy. The same ex-boyfriend who is now engaged to her sister, and whose extravagant wedding she must suffer through in just three weeks' time. She selects the perfect candidate through an online dating app, but instead of the smooth, sophisticated software magnate she expects, a rugged cowboy shows up instead. He is the complete opposite of everything Emma is looking for. In fact, he's exactly the kind of man she swore to her Texas ranching family she would never fall for. Which makes Cort Channing kinda perfect. Only before the weekend is over, Emma finds herself wishing she could keep her former boyfriend, spurs, chaps, and all. Can this committed city girl take the biggest chance of her life, and swipe right for a cowboy? This is book 1. Nick gives Abby a proposal she can't refuse. Will she fall under his spell? Her boyfriend dumped her, her car died and she was recently handed a pink slip. What's a girl to do? Leave everything behind for a bit...in Positano, Italy. And when she gets there she finds a surprising extra—millionaire restaurateur Dante Sabbatini in the kitchen. In his underwear. Making coffee. It's suddenly not only how he looks outside, but exactly what is he doing inside, in her temporary kitchen? Dante's plan was to escape to his family's beach house for some quiet and privacy. What he didn't know was that his meddling, matchmaking nonna rented the entire house to a sexy stranger at the exact same time as his stay. It took him months to clear his schedule—there's no way he's leaving now. With both refusing to leave, Zoe and Dante agree to be temporary roomies, but secretly aim to try to drive the other out. He plays his music as loud as he wants and will wear as little clothing as possible, and she'll just go ahead and adopt that pig she fell in love with in town. from my father on his deathbed, a millionaire who cared more about his business and money than what his son wanted in life, than if his son was happy. I had a year to find a woman and convince her to have my baby or I'd lose everything. It was easy enough with the socialites who hung around in hopes I'd be with one of them. But it would never happen. I wanted a woman for my own, someone I could love, who could see past my money and wanted me for me and not how I could advance their lives. Yet at the end of the day, women only wanted me because I had deep pockets. But then there was Elise. My employee. A woman who I needed to keep a professional relationship with. I didn't see her as a means to an end. I saw her as the only woman who sparked life inside me with just a look. The only woman to have ever done that. I hadn't desired someone like that a long time, hadn't wanted a woman in my bed for longer than I'd admit. I wanted to say screw it with my father's demand, and if that meant losing everything, so be it. But could Elise be the one to give me everything? Happiness, love... a baby?
